Shredding and recycling for small-to medium-sized enterprises

We've got nothing better to do than to shred paper all day.

Bet you can't say that.

New privacy laws. Greater risk of liability, leaks, and corporate espionage. Increased calls for environmental accountability. Let's face it: shredding documents in-house isn't as easy as it used to be.

As the rules governing document destruction become more complex, your employees are spending a lot more time in front of the paper shredder. Time better spent growing a business.

Want to spend less time shredding and fretting? Do what hundreds of small businesses do: entrust A Shred Ahead.

Our Small Business Service includes free, lockable office consoles to hold all your unwanted documents. Once every two weeks (more often if you need us), our courteous staff will empty your console and shred all contents on-site. There's no need to sort paper: our state-of-the-art shredding trucks destroy it all. We recycle all shredded materials, turning your unwanted documents into useable paper products.

All Shredded Paper is Recycled.
